

WILL BEG DAUGHTER TO RETURN HOME

Father of Delilah Bagley, Who Eloped With Joel Foster,
Plans Trip to Mobile.

TELEGRAMS TO HER IGNORED

Man to Whom She Was Engaged to Be Married Will Accompany Mr. Bradley.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Pemberton, N. J., January 10.—Henry Bradley, father of Miss Delilah Bagley, the pretty stenographer who eloped early in December with her employer, Joel Foster, a wealthy married man, left to-night for Mobile, to plead with his daughter to return to her home.

"Telegrams which we have sent to my sister since Foster was arrested in Mobile, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, have been ignored," said Charles Bradley to-day. When Miss Bradley left her home with Foster, who is forty-two years old, she was engaged to be married to Horace D. Linderman, a telegraph operator. She left on her dressing table the diamond engagement ring which Linderman had given her.

Linderman is in Royer's Ford, Pa., but it is reported here to-day that he will join Mr. Bradley in Philadelphia and accompany him to Mobile. Friends of Linderman assert that he has taken a vow to shoot Foster when he meets him.

"There will certainly be trouble in Mobile," said one of Bradley's neighbors to-day, "when Delilah's father and Horace Linderman reach there. It will take a number of agents of the Department of Justice to protect Foster."

Frank L. Garberino, agent of the Department of Justice, visited Pemberton and Brown's Mills to-day, and he will accompany Mr. Bradley to Mobile. Bradley has asserted that he will not consent to his daughter becoming the wife of Foster, even if the millionaire poultry dealer is divorced by his wife, who is now in Scranton, Pa., with Foster's father, T. J. Foster, president of the International Correspondence Schools.

Girl is Eighteen Years Old.

Delilah Bagley was eighteen years old last September, according to her brother, Charles. Her closest girl friend and companion was Miss Frances Foster, the pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of the man with whom she eloped. Miss Foster is now in Scranton with her mother. They left Brown's Mills last Sunday night with Mrs. A. A. Bush, Foster's sister.

Reports were received here to-day from Scranton that Mrs. Foster has expressed a willingness to join with Mr. Bradley in prosecuting Foster. Mrs. Bradley is prostrated with grief, and will not accompany her husband to Mobile, but she is sending her daughter a long letter, pleading with her to return to Pemberton with her father.

Speaking for the Bradley family, Miss Dulore Potter, Mrs. Bradley's sister, to-day said:

"We do not know just what we shall do. We are acting entirely upon the advice of Frank L. Garberino, the agent of the Department of Justice. But we will do everything we can to get Delilah back home. We would take this minute if we could, but I understand she will not be permitted to leave Mobile until after the hearing before United States Commissioner Jones on next Wednesday. We hope that Foster will be brought to trial in Philadelphia."

When Miss Bradley left home she took none of her clothes with her, Miss Potter said, and she had no jewelry. The expensive gowns and many gems found in her apartment in the hotel in Mobile, Miss Potter said, must have been purchased by Foster after Miss Bradley met him in Philadelphia.

Washington, January 10.—The Department of Justice will stubbornly oppose any attempt to evade the Mann white slave act by charging that Delilah Bagley, who eloped with Joel Foster from Pemberton, N. J., with Delilah Bagley.

Chief A. Bruce Bielaski, of the Bureau of Investigation, announced to-day that operatives had been placed at the disposition of the district attorney at Mobile. The detectives are now searching Eastern cities where the couple have been reported to have once. Foster's attorneys have announced that they will fight conviction on the ground that the Mann law does not cover transportation of women in interstate commerce for uncommercialized vice.

TRIBUNAL DECIDES AGAINST DUCHESS

Rome, January 10.—Cardinals composing the Segnatura tribunal, or high court of the Roman Curia, to-day rejected the appeal of the Duchess de Talleryand, formerly Anna Gould, of New York, from the verdict of the Rota tribunal annulling her marriage to her first husband, Count Boni de Castellane. The case, however, will come up again for trial before the Rota tribunal.

Cardinal Pietro Gasparri drafted the report, of which he gave a summary to the tribunal. He afterward expressed a lucid opinion on the points of law and suggested the rejection of the appeal.

Cardinal Basilio Pompili, vicar general of the Rota, raised objections concerning the actual reason why the Duchess de Talleryand had not been notified before the original trial. Cardinal Gasparri explained that the archbishop of Paris had sent it in a registered letter to the Duchess de Talleryand's Paris address. The latter there had refused to take the letter, saying the duchess was at her house. A letter was forwarded there, but the duchess herself refused to receive it.

The duchess explained that she never accepted registered letters from unknown persons, as they usually contained begging appeals.

The point on which Cardinal Gasparri based his argument for the rejection of the duchess's appeal was that immediately after the Rota tribunal had given its judgment annulling the marriage she had started a suit for a new trial before the Rota tribunal, thereby implicitly admitting taking an exception to the first procedure. It was only later, at the suggestion of her lawyers, the cardinal pointed out, that she pleaded ignorance in attempting to have the judgment annulled.

WASTED ENERGIES TO BE ELIMINATED

Reorganization of Department of Agriculture Contemplated
by Officials.

Washington, January 10.—Reorganization of the Department of Agriculture by abolishing all of the present thirteen bureaus and substituting four or five large offices is contemplated in a provision carried in the agriculture appropriation bill, which the House Committee on Agriculture has almost completed. While details are left to Secretary Houston, he and Representative Lever, chairman of the committee, have conferred over the plan for readjusting the work of the department to eliminate all lost energy that possibly can be corrected. The only obstacle to the concentration plan is the possibility of objection on the ground that the provision constitutes new legislation that cannot be carried in an appropriation bill.

The readjustment is expected to include the concentration of divisions into four groups, each under a single official, as follows:

Regulatory or quarantine work, dealing with insecticides, meat inspection, etc.

Scientific and research work, to comprehend everything that comes under those general heads.

Demonstration or extension work for farmers, which is to be radically expanded.

Administration to handle the department executive affairs, including the office of the secretary and assistant secretary, chief clerk and disbursing officer and similar officials.

The agricultural bill will also carry an appropriation that will reach close to the $14,000 asked by Secretary Houston for acquiring and diffusing information on subjects connected with the marketing and distribution of farm products, a project initiated by Chairman Levy. For farm demonstration Secretary Houston asked $378,000, and for farm management $375,000. For eradication of hog cholera $75,000 is sought.

COUNTRY LIFE MEETING AT HAMILTON HIGH SCHOOL

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Cartersville, Va., January 10.—An appreciative audience heard J. H. Binford, secretary of the Co-Operative Education Association of Virginia, deliver an address last night at Hamilton High School on "How to Build Up the Country." This league was instrumental in building three miles of gravel road from Cartersville to the high school, and has now made an appropriation to build apparatus on the five-acre school lot for a modern outdoor public playground. The question of building a home for the principal is being considered. The proposed plan is to get twenty to twenty-five acres of land for this purpose. In order that the principal may operate a small farm and live throughout the year in the community.

DEATHS

AUGUSTINE.—Died, at his residence, 1024 West Grace Street, Friday, January 9, 10 P. M. JAMES AUGUSTINE. Services from his home SUNDAY, January 11, at 3 o'clock. Interment in Hollywood Cemetery. Friends of family invited to attend.

HUTCHINSON.—Died, on January 2, 1914, at his residence, 1628 West Grace Street, Richmond, MILTON L. HUTCHINSON, in the fiftieth year of his age. Just two weeks before to a day he was at work preparing his samples for a regular spring trip to North Carolina, in which State he had traveled for many years as one of the representatives of the well-known House, Drewry-Hughes Company.

Mr. Hutchinson was unusually popular. His strong, high character, forced respect and admiration. His gentle, considerate manner on all occasions drew to him very closely not only his social, but his business friends as well. He will be greatly missed in this city and throughout the territory that he traversed so many years.

Mr. Hutchinson is survived by his wife and one sister and two brothers, who have our deepest sympathy in this hour of bereavement.

A FRIEND.

BERRY.—Entered into rest, January 10, at 1:30 A. M., at her residence, 508 North Monroe Street, MRS. SARAH E. BERRY, in the seventy-fourth year of her age.

Funeral from the Southern Methodist Church THIS AFTERNOON at 3:30 o'clock.

CHILDRESS.—Died, January 9, 1914, at 5:30 A. M. CLIFTON C. CHILDRESS, aged thirty-six years. He leaves a father and three brothers.

Funeral from St. John's Episcopal Church TO-DAY at 2 P. M. Interment in Oakwood. Friends and acquaintances invited to attend.

PERKINS.—Departed this life December 21, 1913, JAMES E. PERKINS, beloved son of U. P. and B. E. Perkins.

Beneath the shades of Oakwood trees
That I was waited by a heavenly breeze,
My son's remains are there to stay,
Whose deeds of love I remember each day.

His hands are folded across his breast;
His parents loved him dearly, but
His Saviour loved him best.

On God's eternal camping ground
His winding sheet is spread;
Where angels guard with solemn round
His cold and clammy bed.
May he rest in peace.

OBITUARY

William O. Shelburn.

William O. Shelburn died yesterday morning at his residence at Virginia Beach, Va., after a prolonged illness.

Mr. Shelburn's health failed in October, at which time he entered St. Christopher's Hospital, Norfolk, for treatment. He was found to be suffering from a complication of diseases, and from the very beginning the physicians in charge held out very little hope for his recovery.

He was born near Durham, N. C., from which point he removed to Richmond, and he was engaged in the tobacco business here for several years. For the past fourteen years he had been in the employ of the International Harvester Company of America, in the capacity of general salesman, covering Eastern Virginia and Eastern Carolina, where he was widely known.

He is survived by his mother, his wife and three children, Mrs. Hilliard and Mrs. Rodgers, and David Shelburn, all of Virginia Beach, and two brothers, John Shelburn, of Norfolk, and Ed. H. Shelburn, of Greenville, N. C.

Mr. Shelburn was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He had a wide acquaintance in Eastern Carolina.

James Augustine.

James Augustine, formerly one of Richmond's most prominent merchants, died at 10 o'clock on Friday night of his third stroke of apoplexy. The end came quickly and peacefully.

Mr. Augustine suffered his first attack two years ago, and since that time he has been confined to his bed. He was in the fifty-sixth year of his age when he was stricken by his wife, formerly Miss Patten Brown, of Richmond, and two sons, James Augustine, Jr., and Walter E. Grant, of this city.

The funeral will be from the late residence, 1024 West Grace Street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. William H. Lawhorne.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lawhorne, Va., January 10.—Mrs. William H. Lawhorne, aged forty years, died Friday night at her home in Ashland, after a long illness. Her husband and three children compose the surviving family.

Nathaniel B. Meade.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winchester, Va., January 10.—Nathaniel B. Meade, aged about fifty-five years, died suddenly yesterday of an aneurysm at his country home near Winchester. His funeral will be held here to-morrow, and he will be interred in Mount Hebron Cemetery.

He was a native of Winchester, and his father, the late Judge N. B. Meade, was for many years presiding judge of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, Va. His mother was formerly Miss Eugenia Turner, of King George County, Va. Mr. Meade was connected with several Western railroads for many years and

How About Your Kidneys?

Every pain, every ache, is a little warning—one of nature's alarm signals, telling you something is out of order. Unfavorably the kidneys are to blame. They are the organs that remove the poisonous matter from the blood. If they are inflamed, congested or otherwise weakened in their action, the poison remains in the blood and the whole system becomes filled with uric acid. Many physicians say that Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy is the only medicine that can heal with certainty the frail, tubular structures constituting these important organs. It is made from the fresh juices of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the proper season in various quarters of the globe. It is pleasant in taste and chemistry compound. It is pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach. For thirty-six years the record of results obtained from the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has been remarkable in the restoration to health of thousands. A trial will prove its efficacy in your case. Free sample if you write Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 285, Rochester, N. Y.—Advertisement.

until his health began to fail. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Nellie Meade, formerly of Marshalltown, Iowa; two brothers—Judge Granville Meade, formerly of Texas, but now of Washington, and Turner Meade, of Fort Worth, Tex., and one sister—Miss Alice Turner Meade, of Washington. He was a descendant of Bishop William Meade, the famous prelate of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia. Mr. Meade had a large family connection in Virginia and other States.

Mrs. Sarah E. Shaw.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greensboro, N. C., January 10.—Mrs. Sarah E. Shaw, aged seventy-one years, died at her home on Broad Street, after a short illness with pneumonia. She is survived by her husband, W. H. Shaw, and two sons—Julius P. and Claude Shaw, of this city.

Mrs. Amelia Kirkland Weaver.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greensboro, N. C., January 10.—Mrs. Amelia Kirkland Weaver died at her home on Carr Street after a long illness, aged sixty-six years. She was the widow of W. H. Weaver, and came here about twenty years ago from Chapel Hill. A short service was held at the home and the body taken to Chapel Hill for interment. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. The surviving children are Mrs. Mary G. Coble and Miss Alberta Weaver, of this city; Joe Weaver, of Winston-Salem, and Fleming Weaver, of Chicago, Ill. The grandchildren were C. W. Jennings, J. B. Harrison, A. Wayland Cooke, J. C. Olive, Judge S. B. Adams and J. G. Foushee, Jr.

Aged Man Dies.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Freeling, Va., January 10.—William Kelly, doubtless the oldest man of Dickenson County, died on Thursday at the home of his son, Harvey, near here. His exact age was not known, but the oldest people of this place remember him as an old man in their young days. He is believed to have been 100 years old at the time of his death. He joined the Primitive Baptist Church more than a year ago. He was so helpless at the time of receiving baptism that he had to be carried into the water in a chair. He was a private in the Union army during the War Between the States.

FUNERAL NOTICE

GREY.—The funeral of MRS. MARY A. GREY will take place from the Ebenezer Baptist Church MONDAY MORNING, January 12, at 11 o'clock. Friends are invited.

IN MEMORIAM

FLOOD.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife and our loving mother, ALICE ANDERSON FLOOD, who died at her home, Andersonville, Va., January 8, 1913. Asleep in Jesus.

BY HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

NUNALLIE.—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, W. E. NUNALLIE, who died two years ago to-day, the 11th of January, 1912. Our father is sleeping so free from all pain. Oh! I hope not, sweet spirit, to suffer again. He is resting so sweetly, oh! let him rest. His sickness is ended, his trouble all gone.

Oh! think how he moaned and suffered with pain. In the long night hours as we sat by his bed in vain. Till God in His mercy sent down from above An angel that whispered a message of love.

We did not want to part with him. But God knew what was best. But some day we hope to meet him In that sweet land of rest.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure, Earth his lonely casket keeps. And the sunbeams long to linger Where our dear father sleeps.

Oh! papa, how we miss you. Your bright and smiling face, And our home is sad and lonely. Where no one else can take your place.

By his daughter,
LEELLA V. CHEEK.
